ABOUT

After the science class in highschool I turned towards art, and in the autumn of 2021 I began studying directing in the Film, Photography and Media programme of Sapientia University's Faculty in Cluj-Napoca, where I later continued with a master's degree.

When I watched the films I had made during my university years one after another, I realised that they are all connected by the tangle of human relationships, the tension of unspoken thoughts, the complicated, slow resolution of emotional conflicts, or else the grief of being unable to find closure.

I am currently a PhD student at Sapientia University's first doctoral school, the Doctoral School of Intermediality and Film Studies, where I will be researching the intermediality of the films of the Romanian New Wave. Alongside this I am preparing my first feature film. Its subject fits the films I have made so far, as through a personal conflict I would like to draw attention to a childhood trauma, a problem that can be put in universal terms, on the level of society.

Besides my doctoral research I am also trying to develop my affinity for writing, and so my film reviews and a book review have already appeared in Filmtett and Helikon.

An undisguised aim of this website, however, is also to "publish" my own writing here, out of a desire to communicate and to develop my writing skills.

So browse my digital diary and footprint boldly and at your leisure!

GYURI

2026 · 21 MIN

In a remote Transylvanian village, a fragile closeness forms within a single day between a documentary filmmaker from the city and a withdrawn local young man, and falls apart as quietly as it was born.

SYNOPSIS

Sanyi, a young documentary filmmaker, arrives in a village in Szeklerland to record interviews. But the subject he set out to capture slowly slips away from him, and he turns the camera more and more toward Gyuri. What he records from that point on is no longer the film he came to make. Over the afternoon, in the moments he films himself, the two of them draw ever closer. What surfaces between them is never named, and in this village, it cannot be.

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

This short film is a restrained emotional study of how desire is born and how it is suppressed, and at the same time an introduction to the world and tone of a feature film in preparation. Through the relationship of two men in their late twenties, it shows a world where feelings can rarely be spoken about openly and desire often comes with guilt. We worked with the language of documentary, natural light and a handheld camera to create the intimacy and authenticity the story needs.

MY GIRL

2024 · 10 MIN

A father cannot accept his daughter's deafness and insists on a traditional school.

SYNOPSIS

Márton (29) and Kriszta (27) are raising their hearing-impaired daughter Éva (7) in a small town. As the start of school draws near they argue more and more, because Márton wants to send her to the local primary school and Kriszta to a special school. After the constant quarrels and the bullying Éva suffers, Márton lets go of his pride and accepts that the local school is not right for his daughter. The family moves to Cluj-Napoca, where Éva settles into the school for the hearing impaired.

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

The film follows a small family through difficult days: Éva, who is hard of hearing, is about to start first grade, and her parents imagine her future differently. Kriszta, the mother, has already accepted her daughter's situation and would enrol her in a special school, while Márton, the father, insists on a mainstream school and only realises by the end that his daughter's interests have to come first. I wanted to show the clash of two parenting attitudes and the hard road to acceptance, because parents raising disadvantaged children struggle constantly with themselves and with their surroundings.

CHASING

2023 · 11:36

SYNOPSIS

Gáspár (22) and Kata (18) meet at a train station. At first glance they don't know each other, and their lives are very different. During their awkward conversation it turns out that their paths are not so parallel after all, as the two of them grew up in the same village. Nostalgia fills the run-down waiting room. But the mood soon changes when another fact comes to light. Gáspár's life went off track when, during a children's game, he tried to protect Kata. Now she has to decide: leave the poor boy behind once again and get on the train, or stay with him.

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

The film grew out of a mix of my childhood memories and my own experiences. I often think about what became of the children I used to play with in my grandmother's village. Many images stayed with me: munching sweets on the edge of the ditch, or my grandfather's bicycle, which was a bit too big for me but did the job, and whose handlebars always dug into the wet ground, so I often had to pick blades of grass out of the rubber grips. We played together, discovered Bluetooth together and swapped songs recorded from the radio. And now I don't know what has become of them. The film is the recognition of that feeling.

QUIET HOLIDAYS

2022 · 9:07

SYNOPSIS

The observational documentary is about a community of the Romanian Deaf and Mute Association, in Harghita county. The board members of the association prepare gifts for the children of the community on the occasion of Santa Claus. It begins with the preparations for the packing and ends with the celebration.

In my work, I emphasize the president, who plays an important role in the story. The artwork follows the relationships and the conflicts between the president and the board members. It pays close attention to the actions and reactions between the deaf people and the president.

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

A look at my family's everyday life, made as a university exam film.
